

"This award is a testament not only to Honda, but also to the craftsmanship of Hoosier workers"

Washington, D.C.—U.S. Congressman Mike Pence issued the following statement after the 2012 Honda Civic Natural Gas vehicle was named the 2012 Green Car of the Year at the Los Angeles Auto Show:

"Three years after breaking ground on the Greensburg assembly plant, the 2012 Honda Civic Natural Gas, built in Indiana, has been named the 2012 Green Car of the Year," said Pence. "This award is a testament not only to Honda, but also to the craftsmanship of Hoosier workers."

"As I said at the groundbreaking ceremony of the plant, Honda put its faith in the Hoosiers of Decatur County, and the community has rewarded that commitment with their hard work and dedication to excellence. Congratulations to Honda, all of their devoted employees, and the community of Greensburg for this well deserved recognition."
